Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

On behalf of the University of California, San Diego, I am delighted to hear from Stanley Sporkin of your interest and support of our Conference on Crisis Management. Cosponsored with the New York Stock Exchange, it will be held March 26-27, 1987, at the Hotel del Coronado near San Diego. I also understand that you may join us as a speaker on our program. You would add enormous value to the conference and I hope that you will be able to join our faculty which already consists of: Dave Doherty, Steve Hammerman, Seymour Hersch, Alan Levenson, Gary Lynch, John Phelan, Irv Pollack, Al Sommer, and Linda Wertheimer. We are waiting for acceptances of other speakers and will send you the list of them, and the program, as soon as our planning for the conference is completed.

It is the intent of the conference Planning Committee (Herb Cohen, Mitch A. Hart, James O. Hewitt, and Stanley Sporkin), the University, and the New York Stock Exchange to provide an annual forum for policy makers in the private and public sectors to share their knowledge and experience in coping with crises so that they can be managed more effectively. We therefore believe that with this first conference we will create an institution which will serve the public's interest for many years to come.

Sincerely,
